

Broadcast Teams Announced for 2013-14 WIU Basketball Season

Eleven students will cover the men's and women's basketball teams for the 2013-14 season on TV and radio. Games will be aired on wiutv3 and WIUS 88.3 The Dog.

MACOMB, Illinois, 11/7/13 – The Western Illinois University Department of Broadcasting has announced the commentators for the 2013-14 men's and women's basketball season. The eleven students will cover over twenty home games for wiutv3 and student radio station WIUS 88.3 "The Dog".

For men's basketball, Gabriel McDonagh (play-by-play), Nico Haeflinger (analyst), and Tyler Eddy (sideline reporter) will be the television commentators. Pierce Roberson and Aaron Viner are the radio pairing.

For women's basketball, Josh Dillon (play-by-play), Jeff Marta, David Piazza (analysts), and Chris Pasmanski (sideline reporter) will be the television crew. Marta and Piazza will alternate as analysts on a game-by-game basis. Drew Hoffman and Garrick Hodge will work the radio side.

The Department of Broadcasting returns four voices from last year. Men's radio analyst Viner held the same position for the second half of the 2012-13 season and roamed the sidelines for the first half. Hoffman, McDonagh, and Roberson made up the men's television crew in 2012-13, but are all play-by-play men for the 2013-14 campaign.

For more information on the WIU Department of Broadcasting, visit wiu.edu/broadcasting or contact the department at (309) 298-2888.